

MY COPYRIGHT EXPLAINED IN DETAIL

All images published on this website are displayed in agreement with the first owner of the copyright, the holder of all rights and belong to and were taken by Darryl Curcher, who also owns all the moral, paternity and reproduction rights to the images displayed on this site.

All photographs taken by Darryl Curcher are copyright protected. It is against the law to steal, copy or deface any images without seeking prior consent from the copyright owner and author. Most photographers never hand over their copyright unless agreed in writing pre or post shoot. With regard to my reproduction rights of any of the images taken by Darryl Curcher, unless requested or agreed prior to your photo-shoot or assignment this will also require my sole approval. If you do not ask for permission prior to use then there maybe further fees payable.

For example, if I take a photograph of your pet pony in a horse trial then you decide to buy these images from me you may then reproduce the photographs in anyway you wish i.e. for an advert, on your website or for use within the media provided "© Darryl Curcher Photography" is included in that publication.

To copy, (without prior consent) sell, lend, hire or otherwise use the images for financial gain is in breach of my copyright, my moral rights and my paternity rights.

I reserve the right on photographs to which I hold the copyright to sell, hire, lend or authorize their use on any promotional material, advertisements, posters, cards, postcards, tiles, publications or any other media related material. Images may also be sold, lent or hired to photographic libraries or agencies by me for them to sell or hire to their clients. This website and its content are owned by Darryl Curcher.

The website, its design and content including each and every photograph are protected by copyright and trademark law and other related intellectual property rights. Copyright in the photographs is owned by me, Darryl Curcher. My photograph's are also protected by moral rights. I assert my moral and paternity right to be identified as the author where ever and whenever my photographs are copied or distributed by any means.
